Conclusions

- ▶ What did we expect at the beginning of the project?
- ▶ What did we get?

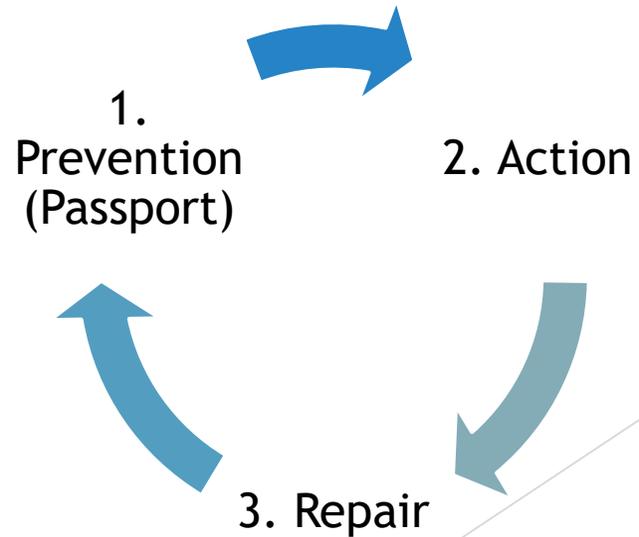

SOLUTIONS

VS

DIFFERENT ATTITUDE TOWARDS DIFFICULT BEHAVIOR

Integrative approach

- ▶ Supported by the organization you work for and shared by colleagues
 - ▶ Prevention
 - ▶ Action
 - ▶ Repair

Conclusions

1. NO QUICK FIX

- ▶ Importance of creating structure
- ▶ Getting background information
- ▶ Situations when there is no right reaction

Conclusions

2. CHANGE OF ATTITUDE

- ▶ Importance of relations
- ▶ Self-confidence
- ▶ New way of seeing the youngster
- ▶ Ability to look at difficult behavior from distance

Conclusions

3. SELF-REFLECTION

- ▶ Behavior as an interaction
- ▶ How my behavior/reactions can influence the client?
- ▶ How do I feel when difficult behavior occurs?
- ▶ How can I get support? What helps?

Conclusions

4. WORKING TOGETHER

- ▶ Gaining background information
- ▶ Creating a network around the person with a disability (piece in a puzzle)
- ▶ Consistency in reaction
- ▶ Team work, team support

Conclusions

5. FRAMEWORK AND TOOLS

- ▶ This helps us detect the problem behavior on beforehand
- ▶ Adjusting information to create solutions in my organization/target group
- ▶ Tools that are easy to prepare and use
- ▶ Methods must be workable

What do we need to explore more?: Questions left after the project

How can we create a preventive environment?

How do we handle moments of crisis? → specific solutions in different organizations

Can the strategy be implemented in other organizations?

How to prioritize work in a moment of crisis?

Should we combine knowledge of many different strategies to be able to deal with difficult behavior?

Conclusions

Gold in our heads

Gold in our hands

Thank you!
