

Product Owner OncoCare@Home

About Byteflies

We are the digital health company behind Sensor Dot, a powerful wearable platform for 24/7 acquisition of physiologic and behavioral data. We have developed remote monitoring applications for COVID-19, epilepsy and cardiovascular diseases, and have a pipeline of additional clinical indications. Currently, we are looking for a Product Owner for our OncoCare@Home solution.

Byteflies is structured in autonomous cross-functional teams that all have skills to complete their own part of the Byteflies mission. All of these teams have great autonomy in reaching their goals. We are looking for an entrepreneurial colleague with lots of energy and passion to spread the telemonitor gospel and change the lives of patients and doctors.

The product Owner role at Byteflies.

We know, “Product Owner” means a different thing in different organizations. And you could spend ages on the internet and on socials debating and discussing what a Product Owner is. So here it is, our list of what we find important and what we think are the main responsibilities of a Product Owner OncoCare@Home at Byteflies:

- Stakeholder management, both internally as externally
- Create, shape, revise, and communicate product vision and definition
- Translate this vision into a (continuously evolving) roadmap
- Generate and prioritize value chunks in the team backlog
- Plan upcoming sprints based on this backlog, run the team’s weekly Sprint Planning meeting, create transparency by organizing sprint reviews, and take part in the weekly Company Update meeting
- You’ll work in an agile team, with daily scrums and weekly sprint plannings
- Work together with the team’s Scrum Master to best align the people and processes with the product goals

What we will be on the lookout for

- Analytical mind/skills
- Good communicator
- Opinionated (based on data, feedback and input from the field): you know how to source for input, ideas and data. You also know how to choose a path and drive progress towards common goals
- You are familiar with techniques to prioritize and separate the noise from the signal

- You have value-based product experience (lean thinking, agile concepts)
- We are looking for a true team player
- You are at your best in a fast-paced and multidisciplinary environment, you're willing to go the extra mile to learn from and train your colleagues
- Experience in healthcare or life sciences is a plus but not an essential requirement.

We offer

- A possibility to take part in our journey to enable out of hospital monitoring and the chance to have a direct impact on people's health care
- Growing with Byteflies will unlock rapid career development paths
- A bunch of awesome colleagues who will challenge you to keep learning
- A working environment based on real autonomy & responsibility
- A hybrid work environment: our main office is in Antwerp: we come to the office when we want to and when we need to. Nobody will regulate your time in office vs remote work vs work with patients and hospitals/doctors
- A competitive salary and benefits package is of course part of the deal

Our values

We at Byteflies are Impactful Warriors and Positive Team Players. We want to change the world for the better. We like to do that by finding the smartest and fastest route to ship products and services of the right quality. We enjoy the ride and are humble, hungry, and people smart.

Sounds interesting? Send your CV and motivation letter to jobs@byteflies.com
Want to know more before you apply? Drop us a message or slide in our DMs.