Getting the Message Across: A Practicum in Visualisation

We are pleased to announce a one-day visualisation workshop to be held in Brussels on the 5th June, 2018 (day before the opening of EPC 2018). This will be a short, hands-on experience, in which participants will work on and share their own materials, under the guidance of the workshop leader and experienced mentors. Participants should bring their own visualization 'problems' in any stage of development-- these may be analytic figures, presentation figures, slide or poster design, or even a once-off visualisation project.

This workshop is open to all EAPS members or EPC 2018 participants.

Workshop leader: Dr. Tim Riffe (MPIDR, Rostock, see https://www.demogr.mpg.de/de/institut/mitarbeiter_1899/timothy_riffe_2198.htm).

Number of participants: 20

Programme:

09:00: Introduction by Tim Riffe on visual design for demographic analytics and communication

10:15: Form 4 groups of 5 people each, by problem similarity. When registering, please attach a short abstract describing the data / problem you want to work on.

10:30: In-group lightning talks: what is each participant's problem?

11:00: Work on problems, as a team, sharing skills and advice, with mentor assistance

12:30: Lunch

13:30: Continued group work.

15:30: Coffee

16:00: Lightning talks on before/after/next, 2-3 minutes each. Further discussion at the bar!

Note: participants will bring their own laptops to work on!

Maximum number of participants: 20

Note: there is no participation fee, but strictly, first come, first served. Please register with Jon Anson at anson@bgu.ac.il, cc: to Tim Riffe at riffe@demogr.mpg.de
